LOGIN/SIGNUP

This is a welcome screen for my application. Because this application will involve different users such as students, teachers and employers, therefore, three type of accounts will be created:

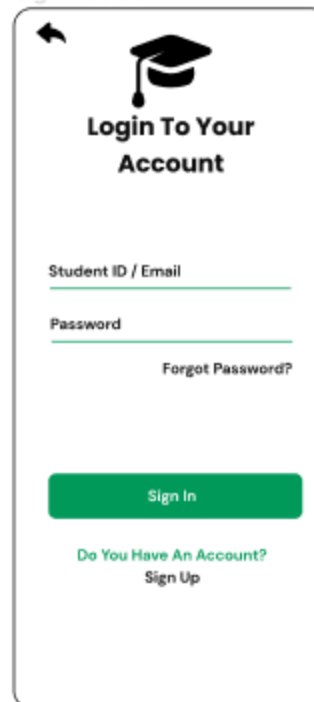

After selecting account type, the sign-up screen will appear. If user is new to this platform then he needs to create an account, otherwise he will use the login screen. In the signup process, user will be recognized by his unique ID and email in order to provide security to every user.
